POOR WEATHER MARS MARSHFIELD FAIR

Those who visited the Marshfield fair this year were somewhat disappointed, not by the quality nor number of exhibits, but by the unfavorable weather that prevailed most of the time on Thursday and Friday. While the weather was all right here on Thursday, at Marshfield it rained quite a bit during the day, making the track muddy and the spectators uncomfortable. However, the management did all that was possible to carry the people entertainment and give out the program, notwithstanding the fact that it was done under extreme difficulties.

In speaking of some of the exhibits the Marshfield Herald has the following to say: Probably the most wonderful exhibit on the grounds was in the educational building in charge of County Superintendent Geo. Varney, showing the work of the rural and graded schools, entries being open to schools in Wood, Clark and Marathon counties. The building was not half large enough to hold the mammoth exhibit and to display it properly. Thousands of articles were shown, and the word wonderful inadequately expresses the work and the variety of it. One article, especially, in this department that attracted an abundance of attention and comment was a railroad engine, the hand work of one child, the thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ebbe of the town of Lincoln. It was an exact miniature duplicate of engine 418 on the Omaha and was made from a sketch made of the engine by young Ebbe last winter while it was snowed bound for several days at Ebbe station. It measured four feet in length with fender, exner in detail and perfect in workmanship. Mr. Varney informs us that the exhibit in the Wisconsin State Fair, where it will unquestionably be awarded first premium.

NOTICE TO LAUNDRY PATRONS

On account of the increased cost of supplies, we are compelled to advance our prices 15 per cent. During the last year we have been able to fortify ourselves against increased cost of operation, because we purchased and contracted for supplies far in advance. But to go into the market today, or in the near future means finding quotations doubled and in some instances trebled. Soap, which is a prime factor in our business could be bought for 6 cents per pound a year ago; today it cost us 17 cents per pound. Starch a year ago, cost us 6 1/2 cents, today it costs 11 1/2 cents. Bluing which sold for $2.50 now commands $15 per lb. Paper a year ago cost us 3 1/2 cents per pound, today it costs us 8 1/2 cents. Twine, coal, gasoline, horse feed, and all other supplies rank in cost in the same ratio.

Labor, which is a large factor in our business has also increased 20 per cent. This increase is on laundry only, it does not effect Dry Cleaning or Sponging and Pressing.

BOY KILLED IN AUTO SMASH AT MARSHFIELD

A fatal automobile accident occurred at Marshfield on Monday evening when Elmer Bickler lost his life by being struck while riding his bicycle, the auto being driven by Arthur Berlin.

The accident occurred about 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and according to the testimony young Bickler came along on his wheel and turned into B street, along which the automobile was running. Bickler ran along on the sidewalk for a short distance and then turned down onto the pavement of the street and the automobile and bicycle ran along side of each other for some distance, both on the right side of the street. The young fellow on the bicycle gained somewhat on the car, and when he had gotten about six feet ahead he suddenly crossed to the left and attempted to cross in front of the auto. The driver of the car realized that he would not make it and turned suddenly to the left, but was unable to avoid a collision with the bicycle, which was knocked to the ground and hurt so seriously that he died about three hours afterward.

District Attorney Roberts went up from the city on Tuesday and opened a coroner's jury who reviewed the facts in the case and rendered a verdict of accidental death.

PROST ON FRIDAY

This section was visited by a frost on Friday night, the 24th instant, and a considerable damage was done in spots. It was not near as much as was expected. The weather seemed unusually cold that evening and the general prediction was that all vegetation would be killed. The greatest damage is reported from the bottom lands along the Wisconsin river below Nekoosa, where it is stated that many fields of corn were killed, and in other places many trees were making damage done. In some sections the cucumber vines were nipped, but in many instances not enough to seriously hurt the crop.

Melon growers in this section report very little prospects of a crop. The vines have grown well but the melons are small and pretty generally immature. The weather was not so much as was expected, but for several weeks they will have very little to sell in this line.

DRAGER-PETERSON

Miss Mae Drager of this city and Mr. Alvin Peterson of Wausau were married in this city on Saturday evening August 25th, at the First Moravian church, Rev. C. A. Mellicke performing the ceremony. TELEGRAMS WILL WARN OF WEATHER CHANGES

Valuable advance information on expected sudden changes in the weather or the likelihood of early frosts will be sent by personal telegraphic service to any part of the state by the weather bureau, United States department of agriculture, from the Madison station, located at the University of Wisconsin, Eric R. Miller in charge.

Farmers, manufacturers or others whose product or occupation is affected to any degree by changing weather conditions are welcome to avail themselves of this new service, Mr. Miller states. They must agree, however, to pay for all telegrams received before their names will be placed on the list.

A few manufacturers have at various times asked and received this special service, and at this time of the year economy in food crops and all manufactured goods it is especially important, authorities believe, to exert extra precaution to avoid frost damage and frost damage.

Rural telephone lines will co-operate with the weather bureau again this year in many parts of the state in transmitting frost warnings to farmers.

JUDGING CATTLE AT THE FAIR

A great many people were interested in the contest of judged cows shown in the round barn at the Marshfield fair last week. They were scored by Prof. Humphrey of Madison, Wis., and scored as follows:

In type first place was given to a grade Holstein owned by Wm. Schultz of Auburndale; second, J. F. Schmidt, Appleton, and third, A. P. Bean of Vesper on a grade Guernsey.

In production Mr. Schmidt carried off first and second with two pure bred Holsteins. Mr. Schultz was third. This was the ranking of the final score.

We expect to have another and much larger contest similar to this next year. Test your cows and get into the game.

In the judging contest Harvey Ward won first place. He was high in the stock judging team that represented the County Agricultural school at the state stock judging contest last winter. Second place went to O. J. Len, third A. P. Bean, fourth Wm. Schultz, fifth Earl Len and sixth to Albert Anderson, another one of last years judging team at the county school.

The county school will send a team to the state fair and fall into the state next winter. Are you boys interested in this line of work? If so send for our school catalog.

LOCAL MEN TO ROCKFORD

Wisconsin's contribution to the national army, the men now being trained at Rockford, Ill., will go to the camp at Battle Creek, Mich., and the others to Rockford, Ill. An order to this effect has been issued by the adjutant general of the army.

The Wisconsin men will go to Rockford. The order states that the men from the counties of Milwaukee, Racine, Kaukauba, Brown, Dodge, Kewaunee, Calumet, Manitowish, Sheboygan, and Waukesha will be sent to Battle Creek and the men from all of the other counties of the state will be sent to Rockford.

The men will doubtless be in camp at Rockford until spring. Rockford is in northern Illinois not far from the Wisconsin line.

In the camp at Rockford there will be 32,000 men from Illinois and 7,000 men from Wisconsin.

WILL DEEPEN TAIL RACE

The Consolidated Water Power and Paper company have a crew of men at work who are engaged in building a cofferdam below the Consolidated mill, which will be used in deepening the tailrace at that point. One side of the river will be deepened after which the water will be allowed to flow thru this part, after which the other side will be taken care of.

The deepening of the tailrace will give them additional head of water at the mill and increase the power with the use of the same amount of water. The water at the mill was shut off on Sunday and the water along the river was about the lowest it is ever seen in this vicinity.

WAR VETERANS ORGANIZE

A camp of the United Spanish War Veterans was organized at Marshfield last Sunday, and will be known as Herman Bartels Camp No. 39. The next regular meeting of the camp will be held at Marshfield on September 2nd, at 2:30 p. m. The charter list will be left open for sixty days for the benefit of those who wish to join, and all those who took part in the Spanish American war are invited to become members of the new organization. G. H. Burklin is commander of the new camp, and Eugene D. Hood, adjutant.

LOST PART OF A FINGER

Fred Praley is nursing a very sore hand as the result of having the end of his second finger pinched off on his right hand. He was sitting on a folding camp chair on Sunday when the thing happened, and in trying to save himself from being hurt he got his finger between the two bars on the side of the chair, and the end of his finger was sheared off. It is necessarily a painful wound and will keep him from doing much in the jewelry line for some little time.

SOME NICE POTATERS

James Gibson brought in a number of potatoes from his garden last week which were fine specimens. They were of the "Best Early New York," and Mr. Gibson reported that six of them came from one hill, being of good size and all about the same weight. If all potatoes in this vicinity yield as good as these there will be an abundance of tubers for everybody.

GRAND RAPIDS WINS

The local baseball team went to Marshfield on Thursday and played a game with the boys up there and won out by a score of 2 to 0. Those who saw the game report that it was a good one and was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators. The boys were not the best for a contest of this sort. Marshfield got four hits off the Rapids and the locals secured eight.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

This afternoon and evening the Ladies Aid society of the Scandinavian Moravian church will hold an ice cream festival at the home of Mrs. John Hammer, 107 Third St. N., on Thursday afternoon and evening, August 30th. Everyone will be cordially welcome.

NEKOOSA WORKMAN KILLED AT SWITCH

Anton Paul, a workman employed by the Nekoosa-Edwards Paper company at Nekoosa, was so badly injured on Monday evening that he died about an hour after he was found, having in the interval been taken to Babcock, at which place he was given medical attention.

The man was found by brakeman Jacobson Livarush who was on the evening passenger going south Monday evening. Mr. Livarush had got off the train to throw the switch at the loop where the trains run into Nekoosa, when he noticed a shoe lying beside the track. He picked up the shoe and found that it contained a man's foot, and about this time he was attracted by groans and investigation discovered that a man was lying in the ditch. It was apparent at once that the man was badly hurt and when found was heaving for water.

The train crew was at once notified and the man picked up, when it was found that both legs had been mangled and severed from the body. He was taken to Babcock for treatment, but he died soon after reaching that village.

Investigation of papers showed the man to be from Chicago, and a sister was communicated with at that point. Her instructions as to the disposal of the body, but as they would nothing about the matter the remains were returned in the potter's shed at Babcock.

The man had been employed at Nekoosa for a short time, having been sent there by an employment agency of Minneapolis. It is not known how he met his death, but it is supposed that he had been at the station near the switch, and that while on his way back to the village he was struck by a northbound train and thrown to one side of the track, where he laid until picked up that evening. Sheriff Normington investigated the case and learned all that was possible of the case, but there was nothing very definite. None of the train crew on the northbound train saw anything of the man and the people about Nekoosa knew nothing about the matter.

DRAFTED MEN ARE BEING FLEEDED BY LAWYERS

The following notice concerning draft and the matter of obtaining exemption is being sent out to the various boards throughout the state, and it may be of interest to some of our citizens:

I am informed that some lawyers are seeking the business of preparing affidavits for individuals who wish to file claims for exemption on industrial or agricultural grounds. It has been further called to my attention that fees of twenty-five dollars are being asked from these persons.

I wish to call the attention of all persons who desire to file such claims that it is absolutely unnecessary to engage an attorney for this work. Local boards will be glad to give you the information and the chairman and secretaries are authorized to administer oaths. A public-spirited notary public in each local board jurisdiction has agreed to certify to those affidavits at a nominal fee. All persons who file claims with district boards ought to understand that the district boards want a plain statement of the facts. An ingenious lawyer's words in the legal phraseology of a lawyer does not help a man's case. It hinders rather.

Please advise all persons who come to you that a statement in plain English of the facts in the case will be given more consideration by the district board than any highfalutin affidavit prepared by an attorney.

It is contrary to the spirit of the selective service law for claimants to have to go to this extraordinary and unnecessary expense. The most they ought to pay is for the preparation of these affidavits is a nominal fee. Members of local and district board and doctors and lawyers who are taking appeals for

The greatest damage is reported from the bottom lands along the Wisconsin river below Nekosha, where it is stated that many fields of corn were killed, and in other places nearby there was no damage done. In some sections the cucumber vines were nipped, but in many instances not enough to seriously hurt them.

Melon growers in this section report very little prospect of a crop. The vines have grown well but the melons are small and pretty generally immature and unless we have considerable warm weather without frost for several weeks they will have very little to sell in this line.

DRAEGER-PETERSON

Miss Mae Draeger of this city and Mr. Alvin Peterson of Wausau were married in this city Saturday evening, August 26th, at the First Moravian church, Rev. C. A. Mellicko performing the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet affair, only immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The young people will make their home at Moorhead, Minnesota, where the groom is engaged in teaching in the public schools.

The bride is well known in this city, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Draeger, and for the past four years has been engaged in teaching at Friendship. She is a most estimable young lady and the Tribune extends the heartiest of congratulations.

MRS. CHRIS NELSON

Mrs. Chris Nelson died at her home in this city on Thursday last week after an illness of some length, cause of death being diabetes. While Mrs. Nelson had been about most of the time during her illness, she had been suffering from the malady for more than a year, and nothing could be done to prolong her life.

Deceased was a native of Norway, where she was born on the 1st of April, 1865, but has been a resident of this city for several years past. She is survived by her husband and three children, Harry and Lydia of this city, and Mrs. George Lapprell of Madison.

WHEAT OUT OF THE GAME

The speculators have apparently decided to give wheat a rest and on Monday there was no trading in the wheat market. Those who were in the game report that it was a good thing for the country at large if the speculators would give all foodstuffs a rest for a time and allow the markets to resume their natural condition such as would be produced by the law of supply and demand. Of course the speculators assure us that they have nothing to do with the fluctuation of prices, but somehow or other they do not succeed in making us believe it.

MRS. S. N. WHITLESLEY OF CRANMOOR

The next regular meeting of the camp will be held at Marshfield on September 2nd, at 2:30 p. m. LOST PART OF A FINGER

Fred Fraley is nursing a very sore hand as the result of having the end of his second finger pinched off on his right hand. He was sitting on a folding camp chair on Sunday when he lost the finger. He was trying to save himself from falling by getting his finger between the two bars on the side of the chair, and the end of his finger was sheared off. It is necessary that he should have the finger sewed on, and he is now in the jewelry line from some little time.

SOME NICE POTATOES

James Gibson brought in a number of potatoes from his garden last week which were fine specimens. They were of the "Best Early New York," and Mr. Gibson reported that six of them came from one hill, being good size and about the same weight. If all potatoes in this vicinity yield as good as these there will be an abundance of tubers for everybody.

GRAND RAPIDS WINS

The local baseball team went to Marshfield on Thursday and played a game with the boys up there and won out by a score of 10 to 0. Those who saw the game report that it was a good one, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators, although the weather was not the best for a contest of this sort. Marshfield got four hits off the locals and the locals secured eight.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

This afternoon and evening the Ladies Aid society of the Scandinavian Moravian church will hold an ice cream festival at the home of Mrs. John Hammer, 107 Third St. N., on Thursday afternoon, and evening, August 30th. Everyone will be cordially welcome.

E. R. Mellicko of Watrous, Sask., Canada, returned to home Monday after spending a week in the city visiting his brother, Rev. C. A. Mellicko. Mr. Mellicko has two and one-half sections of land out in Canada.

TELEGRAMS WILL WARN OF WEATHER CHANGES

Valuable advance information on expected sudden changes in the weather or the likelihood of early frosts will be sent by personal telegraphic service to any part of the state by the weather bureau. United States department of agriculture, from the Madison station, located at the University of Wisconsin, Erie R. Miller in charge.

Farmers, manufacturers or others whose product or occupation is affected to any degree by changing weather conditions are welcome to avail themselves of this new service. Mr. Miller states. They must agree, however, to pay for all telegrams received before their names will be placed on the list.

A few manufacturers have at various times asked and received this special service, and at this time of war time economy in food crops and all manufactured goods it is especially important, authorities believe, to exert extra precaution to avoid loss through storm and frost damage.

JUDGING CATTLE AT THE FAIR

A great many people were interested in the exhibit of tested cows shown in the round barn at the Marshfield fair last week. They were scored by Prof. Humphrey of Madison, 50 per cent on dairy type and 50 per cent on production.

In type first place was given to a grade Holstein owned by Wm. Schultz of Auburndale; second, J. F. Schmidt, Arpin, and third to A. P. Dean of Vesper of a grade Guernsey. In production Mr. Schmidt carried off first and second with two pure bred Holsteins. Mr. Schultz was third. This also was the ranking of the final score.

We expect to have another and much larger contest similar to this next year. Test your cows and get into the game.

In the judging contest Harvey Ward won first place. He was high man in the stock judging team that represented the County Agricultural school at the state stock judging contest last winter. Second place went to J. Lee, third A. F. Beck, fourth Wilmer Drollinger, fifth Earl Leu and sixth to Albert Anderson, another one of last years judging team at the county school.

The county school will send a team to the state fair this fall also to the state meet next winter. Are your boys interested in this line of work? If so send for our school catalog.

LOCAL MEN TO ROCKFORD

Wisconsin's contribution to the national army, the men now being drafted and certified, will be divided into three groups, the first being Battle Creek, Mich., and the others to Rockford, Ill. An order to this effect has been issued by the adjutant general of the army. The Wood county men will go to Rockford. The order states that the men from the counties of Milwaukee, Racine, Calumet, Brown, Door, Kewaunee, Kenosha, Manitowish, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, and Waushara will be sent to Battle Creek and the men from all of the other counties of the state will be trained at the Rockford cantonment. The men will doubtless be in camp at Rockford until spring. He county is in northern Illinois not far from the Wisconsin line.

In the camp at Rockford there will be 32,000 men from Illinois and 7,000 men from Wisconsin.

WILL DEEPEN TAIL RACE

The Consolidated Water Power and Paper company have been engaged in building a cofferdam below the Consolidated mill, which will be used in deepening the tailrace at that point. One side of the river will be deepened after which the water will be allowed to flow thru this part, after which the other side will be taken care of. The deepening of the tailrace will give them additional head of water at the mill and increase the power with the use of the same amount of water. The water at the mill was shut off on Sunday and the water along the river bank was about the lowest it is ever seen in this vicinity.

NEKOOSA WORKMAN KILLED AT SWITCH

Anton Paul, a workman employed by the Nekosha-Ewards Paper company at Nekosha, was so badly injured on Monday evening that he died about an hour after he was taken to Babcock, at which place he was given medical attention.

The man was found by Brakeman Isadore Livermash who was on the evening passenger going south Monday evening. Mr. Livermash had got off the train to throw the switch at the loop where the trains run into Nekosha, when he noticed a shoe lying beside the track. He picked up the shoe and found that it contained a man's foot, and about this time he was attracted by groans and investigation discovered that a man was lying in the ditch. It was apparent at once that the man was badly hurt and when found was heaving for water.

The train crew was at once notified and the man picked up, when it was found that both legs had been mangled and severed from the body. He was incoherent at the time and could give no account of how he received his injuries, but he was placed on the train and taken to Babcock for treatment, but he died soon after reaching that village.

Investigation of papers showed the man to be from Chicago, and a sister was communicated with at the time. Instructions as to the disposal of the body, but as they would do nothing about the matter the remains were interred in the potter's field at Babcock.

The man had been employed at Nekosha for a short time, having been sent there by an employment agency of Minneapolis. It is not known how he met his death, but it is supposed that he had been at the saloon near the switch, and that while on his way back to the village he was struck by a northbound train and thrown to one side of the track, where he laid until picked up that evening. Sheriff Normington investigated the case and learned all that was possible of the case, but there was nothing very definite. None of the train crew on the northbound train saw anything of the man and the people about Nekosha knew nothing about the matter.

DRAFTED MEN ARE BEING FLEECE BY LAWYERS

The following notice concerning the draft and the matter of obtaining exemptions is being sent out to the various boards thruout the state, and it may be of interest to some of our citizens.

I am informed that some lawyers are seeking the business of preparing affidavits for individuals who wish to file claims for exemption from industrial or agricultural grounds. It has been further called to my attention that fees of twenty-five dollars are being asked from these persons.

I wish to call the attention of persons who desire to file such claims that it is absolutely unnecessary to engage an attorney for this work. Local boards will be glad to give you the information and the chairman and secretaries are authorized to administer oaths. A public-spirited notary public in each local board jurisdiction has agreed to certify to the affidavits without charge. All persons who desire to file such claims ought to understand that what the district boards want is a plain statement of the facts. An ingeniously worded affidavit in the legal phraseology of a lawyer does not help, but it only hinders rather. Please advise all persons who come to you that a statement in plain English of the facts in the case will be given more consideration by the district board than any highfalutin affidavit prepared by an attorney.

It is contrary to the spirit of the selective service law for claimants to have to go to this extraordinary and unnecessary expense. The most they ought to pay in the preparation of these affidavits is a nominal fee. Members of local and district board and doctors and lawyers who are giving unserved of their time with practically no remuneration to see that the law is faithfully and impartially administered.

The committee of few lawyers who are exploiting individuals have been severely condemned by lawyers to whom I have talked. They regard it, too, as not only unpatriotic but unethical from the professional point of view.

Please give this letter to your local newspapers.

A NEW KIND OF FISH BAIT

Miles Foster has put in a part of his spare time for some time making a new kind of minnow for casting purposes in fishing for bass, perch and other game fish. The minnow has hooks protruding from it until it is struck by a fish, when the hooks spring out in prominence. The bait is especially useful in casting in the weeds and in places where the fish are waiting there is continual vexation from hooking onto other things besides fish. He has had one of the baits made and has applied for a patent on same.

U. S. GUNNERS LOST

AMERICANS BELIEVED ABOARD
U-BOAT DESTROYED BY FRENCH WARSHIP.

TANKER FOUGHT TO THE LAST

Survivors of the Campana Reach Port on Warship and Tell of Desperate Fight With German Submarine.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 24.—Five U. S. navy gunners as well as the captured captain of the Standard Oil tanker Campana may have died in the submarine U-2, which sank the vessel, according to Third Officer J. H. Bruce, who, with 40 members of the ship's crew and eight of the gun crew, arrived here on a French steamship. It had been feared that the five naval gunners, captured when the Campana was sunk, would be treated by the Germans as pirates (as threatened) and executed with short shrift.

However, according to the story brought by the survivors, a French war vessel sent to the bottom a German diver, which may have been the one that sank the Campana, in a brief time after it had put an end to the Campana and at about the same spot, without taking anyone off.

The Campana, it seems, fought off the U-boat until its ammunition was exhausted. One hundred and eighty shots were fired by the tanker, against 400 by the diver, two of which hit.

The battle began at 5 a. m. and was waged for four hours at a range of between 7,500 and 7,000 yards. After the Campana hoisted the international signal of surrender, its last shell gone, the submarine continued to fire, Mr. Bruce said, and all hands took to the boats.

The U-boat commander first approached the boat commanded by Mr. Bruce, which had aboard the Campana's 13 naval gunners, and ordered it alongside. He then went to the lifeboat occupied by Capt. Albert Oliver of the Campana, and took him prisoner with five of the gunners.

Bruce and his men were rescued by a French warship. The warship took them aboard and landed them in France. Mr. Bruce said he was told by an officer of the war vessel that he had heard a wireless message from another French cruiser, saying that it had sunk a German submarine in the vicinity of the place where the Campana had been sunk.

GERMANY CONSIDERS POPE'S
PEACE PROPOSAL—BRITAIN
SENDS REPLY.

FOES MUST SPEAK FIRST

Chancellor Michaelis Expected to Declare That Pontiff's Note Is in General Accord With Kaiser's
Proposal of 1916.

Copenhagen, Aug. 23.—At a meeting of the main committee of the reichstag Chancellor Michaelis was expected to declare the pope's peace note in general accord with the German government's peace proposal of December 12, 1918, and the recent reichstag resolution on the same subject, and therefore, to be sympathetically received in Germany.

Germany, however, cannot discuss details and in no circumstances can it enter into a discussion of the status of Alsace-Lorraine as a part of the German empire. The chancellor, according to this forecast, will say that as Germany has earlier indicated its desire to make peace, the first word must come from the other side.

A meeting of the bundesrat's committee on foreign affairs had been called for Monday in Berlin under the chairmanship of the Bavarian premier, Count Hertling, to discuss the situation created by the pope's note and to approve the lines of Chancellor Michaelis' speech to the reichstag committee.

Rome, Aug. 23.—The reply of the British government to the peace note of Pope Benedict was handed to Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, by the British minister. The reply says the pope's note will be examined in a benevolent and serious spirit.

BIG FRENCH VICTORY U. S. FLYER MISSING

CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES ON ELEVEN-MILE FRONT.

Penetrate Enemy's Line to Depth of
One Mile and Quarter and Take
4,000 Prisoners.

Paris, Aug. 21.—A smashing French victory on the Verdun front is recorded in the official report issued on Monday by the war office. The French have captured the enemy defenses on both sides of the Meuse over a front of more than eleven miles, penetrating the German lines at divers points to a depth of a mile and a quarter. More than 4,000 unarmored German prisoners have been taken.

The Temps says that in one hour and twenty minutes after the French infantry advanced to the attack at Verdun the objective had been attained and German prisoners were going to the rear.

In a dispatch from Bar-Le-Duc the Temps says: "The last phase of the artillery preparation for the French attack at Verdun region ended at 4:40 o'clock in the morning. Our troops assaulted between Avocourt wood and Bezonvaux. By six o'clock our first objective had been attained and German prisoners were going to the rear. No objectives can give an idea of the infernal action of the artillery, which lasted three days. Hill 304, Dead Man's hill and Tholud were plowed up completely by our fire. The enemy was obliged to abandon his first line, but our attacking columns with undiminished spirit all living combat to trench, reducing all living combat to submission. Our aviators signalled our advance. It was tragic and overwhelming."

PRESIDENT CUTS
PRICE OF COAL;
MILLIONS SAVED

Announces Scale for All Bituminous Grades.

ACTION IS BIG SURPRISE

Prices Are Subject to Revision Later
When Wilson Evolves Complete Scheme for Regulation of Industry—Prices Called Fair and Liberal.

Washington, Aug. 22.—President Wilson unexpectedly announced on Tuesday night a definite scale of prices for bituminous coal at the mines in all producing states.

Instead of appointing a coal director and announcing plans for requisitioning the coal supply of the country the president promulgates prices based on cost production figures compiled by the federal trade commission.

The prices are subject to revision later when the president evolves a complete scheme for the regulation of the coal industry.

The president in a statement declared the prices are "not only fair and just, but liberal as well."

Message Setting Price Scale.

"The following scale of prices is prescribed for bituminous coal at the mine in the several coal-producing districts. It is provisional only. It is subject to reconsideration when the whole method of administering the fuel supplies of the country shall have been satisfactorily organized and put into operation. Subsequent measures will have as their object a fair and equitable control of the distribution of the supply and of the prices not only at the mines but also in the hands of the middleman and the retailers."

"The prices provisionally fixed here are fixed by my authority under the provisions of the recent act of congress regarding administration of the fuel supply of the country, which also conferred upon the executive control of the fuel supply. They are based upon the actual cost of production and are deemed to be not only fair and just but liberal as well. Under them the industry should nowhere lack stimulation."

The scale of prices on an f. o. b. mine basis for tons of 2,000 pounds follows:

| | Run of Mine. | Prepared | Black or Screenings |
|--------------------------------|--------------|----------|---------------------|
| Pennsylvania | $2.00 | $2.25 | $1.75 |
| Maryland | 2.00 | 2.25 | 1.75 |

| Utah | 2.60 | 2.85 | 2.35 |
| Washington | 3.25 | 3.50 | 3.00 |

These prices apply only to coal at the mine. The president, in his formal announcement, declared prices for middlemen and retailers will be aired when further plans have been formulated.

Plans Equitable Control.

Further measures to be announced by the president, the statement set forth, will have as their object "a fair and equitable control of the distribution of the supply and of prices."

The president declared that under the proposed scale of prices "the industry should nowhere lack stimulation."

Take Effect at Once.

The rates promulgated take effect immediately. It is believed that little time will be lost in organizing the machinery of the coal administration and middlemen's and retail prices will be fixed in the near future.

JOBBER'S PROFITS SLASHED

Anthracite Prices Effective September
1—Rules Governing Fuel Announced by Executive in Proclamation.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Prices of anthracite coal were fixed in a statement issued by President Wilson and Harry A. Garfield, president of the Williams college, was named coal administrator.

The anthracite prices, effective September 1, range from $4 to $5.30 per ton (2,240 pounds) f. o. b. mines. Jobbers are allowed to add a profit of not more than 20 cents per ton for deliveries east of Buffalo and of not more than 30 cents west of Buffalo.

The jobbers' profit on bituminous is limited to 15 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds, wherever delivered.

Effective on September 1.

The anthracite coal price scale becomes effective on September 1. The bituminous scale, announced on Tuesday, goes into effect at once, according to a telegram sent by Joseph T. Multry, secretary to the president, to E. J. Wallace of the St. Louis Coal club.

Limitation of jobbers' profits is expected to have a greater effect toward reducing the price of anthracite coal to householders than the fixing of the prices at the mines.

Announcement Text.

The president's announcement was as follows: "The following regulations shall apply to the intrastate, interstate and foreign commerce of the United States and the prices and margins referred to herein shall be in force pending further investigation or determination thereof by the president."

LOVE OF LIBERTY

Trait Was Early Manifested in Career of Thomas Moore.

Great Poet Spent Youth in Trinity College, Where Flame of Irish Patriotism Was Awglo.

The story of Thomas Moore's boyhood is as generally known as his after life. His bright symptoms of genius, his love of music and poetry, his love of domestic pleasures, in the genial circles of his home, and the greatest and purest feature of his whole character, his love of liberty, the liberty of his native land.

In his fourteenth year he entered Trinity college, Dublin, the atmosphere of which was all aglow at the period with the flame of Irish patriotism, which was rapidly spreading among the students. Robert Emmet was lighting up the whole college with the fire of Irish liberty.

The crisis which caused the expulsion of Emmet and others from the college Moore bravely faced and proudly came through the crucible of tyranny, writes Charles O'Farrell in the Irish World. When he was taken before the college tribunal for examination he manfully refused to incriminate any of his fellow students. In the course of his examination he made Lord Clare the following spirited reply:

"I have no fear, my lord, that anything I might say would incriminate myself, but it may tend to involve others, and I despise the character of the man who could be led, under any circumstances, to inform against his associates."

He resumed his studies in the college

U. S. GUNNERS LOST CAN'T YIELD ALSACE

AMERICANS BELIEVED ABOARD U-BOAT DESTROYED BY FRENCH WARSHIP.

TANKER FOUGHT TO THE LAST

Survivors of the Campagna Reach Port on Warship and Tell of Desperate Fight With German Submarine.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 24.—Five U. S. navy gunners as well as the imprisoned captain of the Standard Oil tanker Campagna may have died in the submarine U-2, which sank the vessel, according to Third Officer J. H. Hecce, who, with 40 members of the crew, arrived here on the gunship.

It had been feared that the five naval gunners, captured when the Campagna was sunk, would be treated by the Germans as pirates (as threatened) and executed with short shrift.

However, according to the story brought by the survivors, a French warship, which may have been the one that sank the Campagna, in a brief time after it had put an end to the Campagna and at about the same spot, without taking any off.

The Campagna, it is said, fought off the U-boat until its ammunition was exhausted. One hundred and eighty shots were fired by the tanker, against 400 by the diver, two of which hit.

The battle began at 5 a. m. and was waged for four hours at a range of between 7,500 and 7,800 feet.

After the Campagna halted the fast-moving signal of surrender, its last shell, the submarine continued to fire, Mr. Bruce said, and all hands took to the boats.

The U-boat commander first approached the boat commander, Mr. Bruce, which had aboard the Campagna's 13 naval gunners, and ordered the vessel to surrender.

He then went to the life-boat, accompanied by Capt. Albert Oliver of the Campagna, and took him prisoner with five of the gunners.

Bruce and his men were rescued by a French warship.

The warship took them aboard and handed them to an officer of the French vessel that he had heard a wireless message from another French cruiser, saying that it had sunk a German submarine in the vicinity of the place where the Campagna had been sunk.

HOOVER TELLS OF FOOD SITUATION

Administrator Issues Message on Conservation.

IS GREAT PROBLEM OF WAR

America's Production and Needs of the Allied Nations Set Forth—What We Must Do to Keep Wolf From the Door.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Herbert C. Hoover, United States food administrator, today issued to the American public his statement covering the food situation as it now exists and the necessity of conserving the food resources of the nation to provide for the future during the continuance of the war. The statement follows:

Food is always more or less of a problem in every phase of its production, handling and consumption. It is a problem with every farmer, every transporter and every consumer. It is a problem with every town, state and nation. And now, very conspicuously, it is a problem with three great groups of nations, namely, the allies, the central empires and the neutrals; in a word it is a great international problem.

The food problem today of our own nation, therefore has as its most conspicuous phase an international character. A sufficient and regular supply of food for the maintenance of the great field armies of our fighting allies and of their no less great armies of working men and working women in the war industries, and finally for the maintenance of the women and children in the home, is an absolute necessity, second to no other, for the successful prosecution of the war for liberty. In the providing of this food for the great allied food pool, the United States plays a predominant part.

With the present diversion of tens of millions of men from the farms into the fighting and industrial armies, resulting in a marked lessening of food production, and the present necessity of increasing the daily ration of other millions of men turned from sedentary occupations into those of strenuous physical labor, resulting in a marked increase of consumption, this deficiency between the food needs and the food production of the allies becomes greater than ever, with the consequence of a large increase in the food quantities imperatively needed from the United States if the allied armies are to be able to "carry on."

World's Larder Examined.

This is a general statement of a condition which only needs to be elaborated in detail to show just what we have to do. The time has come when a detailed statement can be made. Our harvest and the harvests of Europe can now be forecast. We can also survey our combined stocks of food animals; in other words, the size of that part of the world's larder on which we and the allies can draw for the next twelve months can now be estimated. This estimate shows at once that it contains too little for our own and our allies use unless we all administer the supply with the greatest care and wisdom. The allied peoples are energetically understanding this administration. It lies now with us to administer. If we fail, the people of the allies cannot be maintained at war. Their soldiers cannot fight without food. A certain definitely determinable part of that food must come from us. Let us then examine carefully the world's larder as it appears today, or so much of it as is at our disposal.

I propose to review the situation first, as regards the cereals, second, as regards food animals and their products, third, as regards sugar, fourth, as regards vegetables, fifth, as regards fish and sea foods, and, finally, as regards our duty in the matter.

The 1917 harvest is now so far advanced that we may compare it with previous production, and with the demands which are going to be made on it.

Table No. 1 is given to show the normal peace supplies of the annual supplies of France, Italy, the United Kingdom and Belgium, being an average of the three-year pre-war period.

It will be seen from this table that the normal imports of wheat are 831,000,000 bushels and of other cereals 674,000,000 bushels. The estimate of the 1917 harvest in the allied countries based upon crop reports from these countries, is as follows:

| Commodity | 1917 pro- duction | Normal production | Deficiency |
|-----------|----------------------|----------------------|-------------|
| Wheat | 2,257,770,000 | 2,000,000,000 | 257,770,000 |
| Corn | 1,464,000,000 | 1,210,000,000 | 254,000,000 |
| Oats | 217,230,000 | 200,000,000 | 17,230,000 |
| Barley | 21,550,000 | 18,000,000 | 3,550,000 |
| Rye | 41,730,000 | 38,000,000 | 3,730,000 |

Total, 3,990,780,000 1,486,448,000 2,504,332,000

In order to provide normal consumption it would therefore be necessary to import in the next 12 months a total of 377,000,000 bushels of wheat and 674,000,000 bushels of other cereals.

The prospective position of our own and the Canadian harvest is given in table No. 2.

Our crops, especially our corn crop, cannot yet be considered as certain, but if all mature safely, North America will have an apparent surplus of wheat of 208,000,000 bushels and of other cereals of about 850,000,000 bushels.

Demand on Our Crops.

The allies are isolated from those markets, other than Canada and the desire to get into the same atmosphere with the great people of Japan. Marshal Prince Yamagata, foremost of Japan's older statesmen, some years ago erected a splendid house at Odawara, a suburb of the capital, and upon a site that commanded a superb view of Mount Fujiyama. Now, this Salto has paid a fabulous price for a large estate located on the Iriyama hill, higher than the mansion of the distinguished prince, and has erected there a charming country house. His architect located the building so that it shut out the view from the famous "Kokidan" or "house of rare age," by which name the prince's villa was known, of beloved and revered Mount Fuji. To quote the vernacular, "built to see the house of rare age," built when the prince had attained seventy years—described by Confucius as "the rare age"—is no longer a quiet power to which the aged Yamagata can retire at all seasons and enjoy rest from the distracting worries of national politics. His view is obstructed by the harkana house of the narikin. The prince hasn't visited Odawara this summer.

How many bones in your feet? Most likely you don't know. Few people do, and it is usually a surprise to learn that there are so many and that the foot is about the most complicated and delicately constructed part of the body. That is, perhaps, the reason why at least 75 per cent of all adults have some kind of foot trouble.

Dr. William M. Scholl of Chicago, an authority on foot troubles and their mechanical correction, says not one adult in 100 has feet that are completely free from defects. He has made a life study of the subject and has patented a great number of appliances for correcting defective conditions and giving comfort.

Dr. Aids War Horses.

In Victoria, British Columbia, there is a successful collector for the Blue Cross fund for horses disabled in war. His name is Prince and he is a Newfoundlander. For months, with his box, decorated with the Blue Cross, strapped to his collar, Prince has served his king and country's faithfully and as true as any subject of George V, by petitioning alms for the horses wounded and suffering in the great war.

Wise.

"A man should take the bull by the horns," advised the sage.

"Yes," agreed the fool. "The trouble is to find a bull that will stand for it."

The Austrians for observation purposes. The first talk of bomb dropping was in 1912, when the Russians were said to have had a huge balloon for that purpose; but nothing was done with it. In 1917, however, the Austrians, when attacking Venice, sent up paper fire balloons, which were to drop bombs in the Venetian lagoon, but forgot to allow for contrary air currents. The balloons got into such a drift, drifting back over the Venetian lagoon, bombed them, instead of Venice.

First Bombing Balloons Fizzle.

The first bomb dropping balloons were humble enough and equally futile. Balloons had been used in war as early as the siege of Maastricht by the Austrians for observation purposes. The first talk of bomb dropping was in 1912, when the Russians were said to have had a huge balloon for that purpose; but nothing was done with it. In 1917, however, the Austrians, when attacking Venice, sent up paper fire balloons, which were to drop bombs in the Venetian lagoon, but forgot to allow for contrary air currents. The balloons got into such a drift, drifting back over the Venetian lagoon, bombed them, instead of Venice.

TANKER FOUGHT TO THE LAST

Survivors of the Campana Reach Port on Warship and Tell of Desperate Fight With German Submarine.

FOES MUST SPEAK FIRST

Chancellor Michaelis Expected to Declare That Pontiff's Note is in General Accord With Kaiser's Proposal of 1916.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 24.—Five U. S. navy gunners as well as the imprisoned captain of the Standard Oil tanker Campana may have died in the submarine U-2, which sank the vessel, according to Third Officer F. H. Bruce, who, with 40 members of the ship's crew and eight of the gun crew, arrived here on a French steamer.

It had been feared that the five naval gunners, captured when the Campana was sunk, would be treated by the Germans as pirates (as threatened) and executed with short shrift.

However, according to the story brought by the survivors, a French war vessel, sent to the bottom a German diver, which may have been the time after it had put an end to the Campana and at about the same spot, without taking anyone off.

The Campana, it is announced, was exhausted. One hundred and eighty shots were fired by the tanker, against the diver, two of which hit.

The battle began at 5 a. m. and was waged for four hours at a range of between 7,000 and 7,500 yards. After the Campana was sunk, its last shell went. The submarine continued to fire. Mr. Bruce said, and all hands took fire to the boats.

The U-boat commander first approached the boat commanded by Mr. Bruce, which had aboard the Campana's 13 naval gunners.

Mr. Bruce told him and offered a wireless message from another French cruiser, saying that it had sunk a German submarine in the vicinity of the place where the Campana had been sunk.

Mr. Bruce and his men were rescued by a French warship.

The warship took them aboard and landed them in France. Mr. Bruce said he was told by an officer of the war vessel that he had heard a wireless message from another French cruiser, saying that it had sunk a German submarine in the vicinity of the place where the Campana had been sunk.

Copenhagen, Aug. 23.—At a meeting of the main committee of the reichstag Chancellor Michaelis was expected to declare that the pope's peace note in general accord with the German government's peace proposal of December 12, 1916, and the recent reichstag resolution on the same subject, and therefore, to be sympathetically received in Germany.

Germany, however, cannot discuss details and in no circumstances can it enter into a discussion of the status of Alsace-Lorraine as a part of the German empire. The chancellor, according to this forecast, will say that Germany has earlier indicated its desire to make peace, the first word must come from the other side.

CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES ON ELEVEN-MILE FRONT.

Penetrate Enemy's Line to Depth of One Mile and Quarter and Take 4,000 Prisoners.

Paris, Aug. 22.—A smashing French victory on the Verdun front is recorded in the official report issued on Monday by the war office. The French have captured the enemy defenses on both sides of the Meuse over a front of more than eleven miles, penetrating the German lines at divers points to a depth of a mile and a quarter. More than 4,000 unarmored German prisoners have been taken.

The Temps says that in one hour and twenty minutes after the French infantry advanced to the attack at Verdun the objective had been attained and German prisoners were going to the rear.

In a dispatch from Bar-Le-Duc the Temps says:

"The last phase of the artillery preparation for the French attack in the Verdun region ended at 4:30 o'clock in the morning. Our troops assaulted between Avocourt wood and Bezouvaux. By six o'clock our first objective had been attained and German prisoners were going to the rear. No objectives can give an idea of the infernal action of the French. Dead, mangled, and mangled, the French soldiers were plowed up completely by our fire. The enemy was obliged to abandon his first line, but our attacking columns reached unimpeded spirit passed from trench to trench, reducing all living combatants to submission. Our aviators signalled the success. It was tragic and overwhelming."

PRESIDENT CUTS PRICE OF COAL; MILLIONS SAVED

Announces Scale for All Bituminous Grades.

ACTION IS BIG SURPRISE

Prices Are Subject to Revision Later When Wilson Evolves Complete Scheme for Regulation of Industry—Prices Called Fair and Liberal.

Washington, Aug. 22.—President Wilson unexpectedly announced on Tuesday night a definite scale of prices for bituminous coal at the mines in all producing states.

Instead of appointing a coal director and announcing plans for regulating the coal supply of the country, the president promulgates prices based on cost production figures compiled by the federal trade commission.

The prices are subject to revision later when the president evolves a complete scheme for the regulation of the coal industry.

The president in a statement declared the prices are "not only fair and just, but liberal as well."

Message Setting Price Scale.

The following scale of prices is prescribed for bituminous coal at the mine in the several coal-producing districts. It is provisional only. It is subject to reconsideration when the whole method of administering the fuel supplies of the country shall have been satisfactorily organized and put into operation. Subsequent measures will have as their object a fair and equitable control of the distribution of the supply and of the prices not only at the mines but also in the hands of the middleman and the retailers.

"The prices provisionally fixed here are based by my authority under the provisions of the recent act of congress regarding administration of the food supply of the country, which also conferred upon the executive control of the fuel supply. They are based upon the actual cost of production and are deemed to be not only fair and just but liberal as well. Under them the industry should nowhere lack stimulation."

The scale of prices on an f. o. b. mine basis for tons of 2,000 pounds follows:

| | Run of Mine | Prepared | Screenings |
|-------------------------------------|-------------|----------|------------|
| Pennsylvania | $2.00 | $2.25 | $1.75 |
| Maryland | 2.00 | 2.25 | 1.75 |
| West Virginia | 2.00 | 2.25 | 1.75 |
| West Va. (New River) | 2.15 | 2.40 | 1.90 |
| Virginia | 2.00 | 2.25 | 1.75 |
| Ohio (thick vein) | 2.00 | 2.25 | 1.75 |
| Ohio (thin vein) | 1.95 | 2.20 | 1.70 |
| Kentucky (Jellison) | 2.40 | 2.65 | 2.15 |
| Alabama (Big Seam) | 1.90 | 2.15 | 1.65 |
| Alabama (Pratt Jaeger and Co. rona) | 2.15 | 2.40 | 1.90 |
| Alabama (Cahaba & Black Creek) | 2.40 | 2.65 | 2.15 |
| Tennessee (East Tennessee) | 2.30 | 2.55 | 2.05 |
| Tennessee (Jellison) | 2.40 | 2.65 | 2.15 |
| Indiana | 1.95 | 2.20 | 1.70 |
| Illinois | 1.95 | 2.20 | 1.70 |
| Illinois (third vein) | 2.40 | 2.65 | 2.15 |
| Arkansas | 2.70 | 2.95 | 2.45 |
| Iowa | 2.55 | 2.80 | 2.30 |
| Missouri | 2.70 | 2.95 | 2.45 |
| Oklahoma | 3.05 | 3.30 | 2.80 |
| Texas | 2.65 | 2.90 | 2.40 |
| Colorado | 2.45 | 2.70 | 2.20 |
| Montana | 2.70 | 2.95 | 2.45 |
| New Mexico | 2.50 | 2.75 | 2.25 |
| Wyoming | 2.60 | 2.85 | 2.35 |
| Utah | 3.25 | 3.50 | 3.00 |
| Washington | 3.25 | 3.50 | 3.00 |

These prices apply only to coal at the mine. The president, in his formal announcement, declared prices for middlemen and retailers will be fixed when further plans have been formulated.

Plans Equitable Control.

Further measures to be announced by the president, the statement set forth, will have as their object "a fair and equitable control of the distribution of the coal supply and of prices."

The president declared that under the proposed scale of prices "the industry should nowhere lack stimulation."

Take Effect at Once.

The rates promulgated take effect immediately. It is believed that little time will be lost in organizing the machinery of the coal administration and middlemen's and retail prices will be fixed in the near future.

Prices for Indiana coal are the same as for Illinois. The rates in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio are somewhat higher.

The president's action was taken under authority conferred in the food control bill.

President Fixes $4 to $5.30 as Rates at the Mine.

JOBBERS' PROFITS SLASHED

Anthracite Prices Effective September 1—Rules Governing Fuel Announced by Executive in Proclamation.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Prices of anthracite coal were fixed in a statement issued by President Wilson and Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, was named coal administrator.

The anthracite prices, effective September 1, range from $4 to $5.30 per ton (2,240 pounds) f. o. b. mines. Jobbers are allowed to add a profit of not more than 20 cents per ton for deliveries east of Buffalo and of not more than 30 cents west of Buffalo.

The jobbers' profit on bituminous is limited to 15 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds, wherever delivered.

Effective on September 1.

The anthracite coal price scale becomes effective on September 1. The bituminous scale, announced on Tuesday, goes into effect at once, according to a telegram sent by Joseph T. Mulry, secretary to the president, to E. J. Wallace of the St. Louis Coal Exchange.

Limitation of jobbers' profits is expected to have a greater effect toward reducing the price of anthracite coal to householders than the fixing of the prices at the mines.

RECENT REPORT FROM ADVANCEMENT ASSN.
"Upper Wisconsin is harvesting the finest crops of small grain in its history. The state has demonstrated its ability and adaptability to do its part and do it well."
"This is the report made by W. C. Bissell, president of the Wisconsin Advancement Association, who has just returned to Milwaukee after a tour of twenty-six counties in northern Wisconsin in the interests of the Great Lakes Wool Convention to be held in Chicago, September 11th and 12th."
"Corn is about two weeks behind normal, but the present warm weather is pushing it forward by leaps and bounds and if frost holds off for another thirty days there will be an unusual corn harvest," said Mr. Bissell.
"The acreage of potatoes has been wonderfully increased and the indications are that the yield will be enormous. The one thing above all others that was surprising to me was the increased acreage of wheat."
To again look upon the splendid wheat fields that promise a yield of from 25 to 30 bushels per acre was an inspiration to a man who has a distinct recollection of the wheat that was raised here in the early 70's. The present figures on Wisconsin's production this year will tell a tale of prosperity that will be staggering."
The labor situation is somewhat perplexing, said Mr. Bissell. The enormous drain made at this time by men going to the front and the unprecedented demand being made upon the labor force in the state will contribute toward placing labor at a premium, he stated.
"The more sheep more wool propaganda must with favor everywhere," said Mr. Bissell.
The following well known Upper Wisconsin men will attend the convention:
R. Parkinson, P. C. McClure, DeWitt VanOstrand, G. M. Chamberlain, Orin Ingram, Burton M. Apker, Tom O. Mason, W. E. Thompson, C. A. Thompson, R. B. Macdonald, Henry Wilson, W. A. Blackburn, Ralph Skidmore, W. H. Wood, Elmer Grimmer, A. W. Brown, P. S. Robbins, S. D. Smith, C. O. Barrow, G. E. Johnson, W. C. Sullivan, J. H. Gibson, W. Good, Frank Catlin, A. G. Bower, C. A. Radquist, A. L. Wilkinson, C. Carlson, W. G. McClell, J. H. Hogenboom, Henry Roberts, W. H. Gibson, W. E. Webster, Harry D. Baker, F. R. Desmond, Harry M. Gates, Carl MacAssey and Geo. A. West.
Wisconsin counties will be represented at the convention.

HARD COAL PRICES CUT BY WILSON

CULL POTATOES CAN BE USED FOR SILAGE
"Potatoes that are not strictly graded," stated a prominent potato merchant to one of the tuber experts with the food administration recently, "will not bring fair return to the grower. The nondescript seed planted this spring bespeaks potatoes of probably poor keeping quality. That it pays to grade strictly was illustrated on a recent market. Poorly graded potatoes were bringing $2.25 per barrel on a quiet market, but when more care was exercised in grading they immediately jumped to $2.85 per barrel and were in good demand."
Reports from various sections indicate that potatoes are being graded more carefully this year. While many of the culls can be fed immediately to the stock, the problem presented in many instances is that of providing these culls until they are needed. This has been done by making potato silage.
At Beltsville, Maryland, an experiment was conducted last year by L. A. Round and H. C. Core of the United States department of agriculture. The method of putting up the silage was as follows:
The potatoes were washed somewhat imperfectly by dumping them into a trough lined with sheet iron and then turned thru the trough with the aid of a potato fork and dropped over the end of the trough into a cutter. This cutter consisted of an ordinary apple grater with the knives removed and with four rows of quarter-inch spikes placed about one inch apart on the cylinder. The grater cracked each potato into several pieces, generally about the size of a golf ball. The silage they were sprinkled with corn meal at the rate of about two and one-half pounds per hundred of crushed potatoes. Now white or yellow corn meal contains a large number of lactic acid organisms, and with the ground potatoes thus inoculated an entirely satisfactory fermentation is produced. When filled, the silage was covered with a layer of six inches of fresh corn silage, and then a wooden cover of one-inch boards was pressed down tightly and held in position by two two-by-four inch boards which were laid across and nailed to the sides of the wooden silo.
Fermentation began at once. With the evolution of the gas considerable pressure developed which was controlled by extra weights; this pressure disappeared in a few days. The cold fermentation continued for two or three weeks.
The resulting potato silage was refreshingly acid in flavor, free from any putrid odor, and of about the consistency of the original crushed potato.
Since the above experiment was conducted it has been found that five tons of a pound of corn meal per hundred pounds of crushed potatoes, fermented by mixing with warm water, gives more satisfactory results than the larger amount of corn meal.
Another plan used by a prominent potato grower is that of partly cooking the potatoes. The potatoes are steamed and placed in a vat and cooked for a short time. They are then placed in a pit—a concrete pit is best, but a plain earthen pit is well drained with do-and-gravel packed. One method of packing is that of driving horses over boards which have been laid over the top. The potatoes are then covered with straw, the boards placed on top and a paper cover to keep out the moisture. Cull potatoes may be safely preserved in this manner until they are needed for feed.
Numerous tests of potato silage have been made by the bureau of animal industry for palatability as feed for cattle and hogs, with favorable results. In the case of hogs, often required two or three days before they consumed it readily, but from that time on they ate all of the potato silage given them up to the time of their ration. It was eaten as readily as the corn silage by the cattle.
Making potato silage is not altogether new, for German experiments are reported as far back as 1884. German efficiency, however, has been improved upon by American ingenuity; for, while the Germans use pure cultures for inoculating the ground potatoes, we use the fermented corn meal which is much cheaper and accomplished the results equally as well.
By making silage from the cull potatoes the American grower can eliminate a waste and incidentally make a profit. In food value, potato silage corresponds with that of corn silage. If fed to pork at present prices the culls should be worth eighty cents per hundred. By putting these culls in silage at harvest time, not only can one preserve them from decay but he also has them accessible as feed for live stock in the spring months before the soft green feed becomes available.

SILAGE QUESTIONS
Is it all right to dig a trench and pour in concrete? This is not a good practice unless the soil is firm. If a trench is made in the soil, the concrete will sink and the silage will be in contact with the dirt. Where the concrete comes in contact with the soil, it is not so good as plaster. If the soil is to be excavated afterwards, it is much better not to attempt to use the soil for the inner form.
Does a silo need a ventilator? For the foundation? Well, burned brick or clay blocks if laid in cement mortar. If clay blocks are used, either good drainage should be provided to prevent the blocks from filling with water, else they can be set on end, and filled with concrete. How wide should a concrete foundation be? The width at the bottom of the foundation wall for a concrete silo should be from 10 to 12 inches on silos from 30 to 50 feet in height on any kind of soil, except very soft clay or cinders when a 16 to 24 in. base is needed.
Why have a concrete floor? It saves silage because it makes the part below ground more nearly watertight. The very bottom layer of silage on a good concrete floor is usually perfect. In nonporous soils like heavy clay where the silo foundation extends far enough below the surface of the ground so that the danger of rats undermining the floor is avoided it is not so essential.
Does a silo need a ventilator? For a few days following filling a door or window at the top needs to be left open for ventilation. It is true that carbon dioxide gas does collect in a silo, but it is not dangerous in silos built above ground. As this gas is heavier than air and as it is only collected during the filling, this is the only time there is any danger. To be absolutely safe, however, it is advisable to run the enallage cutter for a few minutes before entering the silo.

FOUR WHEEL DRIVE TO SAVE

Chas. Duplex Auto Company introduces its Patents.

Slevens Point Journal: That the new Wisconsin Duplex Auto company will have over 100 of these machines are put on the market was influenced by a member of the Four Wheel Drive Auto company of Clintonville who said that the Duplex company had been warned that an injunction will be served against it as soon as the new machines are ready to be placed on the market. The Four Wheel Drive company alleges that the patents under which the Duplex company plans to operate are infringements on patents granted the original company.

What Makes Poultry Pay?

A little thought and care is what makes hens lay and broilers grow fat. Even food is not one bit more important than proper shelter, for a big flock or a little one. A modern poultry house of "Old Faithful" Hemlock Lumber will not only give your poultry ideal surroundings at small cost but will serve to call your attention to the fact that "Old Faithful" Hemlock is a mighty good lumber purchase, not only for a poultry house but for any other building, and has been a regular old stand-by for over two hundred years.

FINED FOR ASSAULT

John Stellmach of the town of Sigel was arrested on Monday afternoon on a charge of assault on a woman. The charge was made by the woman, who was found guilty and fined $100 and costs, which was paid.

RUDOLPH

The Moravian church was crowded last Sunday afternoon, the occasion being children's day. A program of songs and recitations had been carefully prepared by the children under the direction of their teachers, and its rendition was animated and pleasing, reflecting credit on themselves, their instructors and the school. After the pupils had marched in and taken places on the platform to the accompaniment of the organ, America was sung by the congregation standing. A prayer followed, and then an address of welcome, spoken by one of the pastors, Rev. Theodore Kunkle, gave an address in which he explained that the reason why we celebrate August 17 as children's day, is because it was on that day in 1727 that a great work of grace began among the boys and girls of the Moravian congregation in Herrnhut, Saxony. Various songs, recitations and dialogues followed. One little girl sang a solo. All did their parts well. A dialogue by Mrs. Granger, class was interesting, as it discussed from a girl's standpoint the question, "When is a person old enough to be a Christian?"

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. Ing and Mrs. Dr. Jackson entertained the Ladies Aid society and hospitably at the former's home. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Jackson, pres.; Mrs. Carl Jacobson, first vice pres.; Mrs. J. Granger, second vice pres.; Mrs. M. Donnellson, secy.; Mrs. Wm. Plitz, treas. The pastor gave a talk on Moravian mission fields.

PREPAREDNESS LECTURE

GOYD LEMER, THIS IS A LECTURE OF THE GOOD JUDGE WHO WAS THE FIRST MAN TO FIND THERE WAS MORE SATISFACTION IN A LITTLE OVEN OF RICH TOBACCO THAN IN A BIG OVEN OF ORDINARY PUFFS

THIS war is awakening men to the truth about a lot of things besides Preparedness—and chewing tobacco is one of them. Soldiers are strong for W-B Cut and the facts are right before you. These shreds are all tobacco, no gummy sweetening—rich tobacco—more sap in the leaf than in ordinary tobacco by a long shot. That's why it's so satisfying and so economical—a little bit goes a long way.

Made by WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY, 1107 Broadway, New York City

"Yes, the wires on the roof were cut." I began.

"No, a crash of thunder at the far end of the line."

I pointed to the blue sky, with all the stars a-sparkle. Marvel laughed.

"There was no trace at the exchange of the call," he explained.

"Suburban, that was all. At the weather bureau a passing storm cloud reported at one station only—at Bloxington. We are going there."

We reached Bloxton in an hour and Ben Benson was up before Judge Calkins on Monday on a charge of using abusive language, the complaining witness being Dan Strickland. The trial was by jury and he was found guilty and the judge made it a dollar and costs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jung and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Langer autored to Amherst on Wednesday to attend the fair.

HEAD NEARLY CUT OFF IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT
Marshfield Herald: One of the worst automobile accidents which occurred in this section for some time occurred Thursday night between the hours of twelve and one o'clock. One mile west of the north city limits on the Spencer road, the parties in the accident were Charles Ley, driver, William Elbergen and the Misses Lydia, Elsie and Elsie Bodendorfer, all of Chitt, or near there.

They had come to attend the fair during the day and in the evening after attending the dance at the pavilion were taking a ride before returning home.

The driver, not acquainted with the road, when near the stone cheese factory where the road makes an abrupt curve to the right, mistook the direction and turned to the left striking the embankment with the rear force, but not upsetting the car.

The front seat was occupied by Ley and Elsie and the rear seat by Elbergen and Lydia. All were thrown from the car and escaped with minor injuries except Elsie, whose neck was nearly severed when she was thrown thru the wind shield. Her injuries consist of a gaping gash extending from ear to ear and severing the upper larynx.

The automobile, a Chevrolet, is almost a total wreck.

Medical aid was summoned and the wounded, in an ambulance, taken to St. Joseph's hospital where they are being cared for the two young men and Lydia, being only slightly bruised about the head and face. The attending physicians are hopeful of the recovery of the wounded girl.

CITY POINT
About twenty-five people from our village attended the fair at Marshfield last week.

Mr. Goemmel came back from North Dakota last week and reports a bumper crop on his farms out west.

Miss Nita McCarthy visited at the H. P. Anderson home last week.

The Staffons attended the family reunion at their father's home Sunday.

Geo. Galloway and family visited at Merrill Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew Beck and son of Merrill are visiting relatives and friends here.

Hugo Lefelt visited his friend Miss Barbara Diehn over Sunday, both returning to Grand Rapids Monday afternoon.

Miss Nina Jorgenson is visiting with friends here for a few days.

A Ford and Buick autos were stolen at the Marshfield fair last week and so far the authorities have found no trace of the cars. Several weeks ago a farmer living near Marshfield brought his family to attend a picture show and upon his returning his new Buick car had been stolen. There seems to be an organized gang of auto thieves working in that locality.

FOR SALE.—Philo's latest map of the city at this office.

FINED FOR ABUSIVE LANGUAGE
Ben Benson was up before Judge Calkins on Monday on a charge of using abusive language, the complaining witness being Dan Strickland. The trial was by jury and he was found guilty and the judge made it a dollar and costs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jung and Mr. and Mrs. J. Langer autoed to Bloxton on Wednesday to attend the fair.

PREPAREDNESS LECTURE
GENTLEMEN, THIS IS A LIESON OF THE GOOD JUDGE, WHO WAS THE FIRST MAN TO FIND THERE WAS MORE SATISFACTION IN A LITTLE CHOW OF RICH TOBACCO THAN IN A BIG CHOW OF ORDINARY PLUG.

THIS war is awakening men to the truth about a lot of things besides Preparedness—and chewing tobacco is one of them. Soldiers are strong for W-B Cut and the facts are right before you. These shreds are all tobacco, no gummy sweetening—rich tobacco—more sap in the leaf than in ordinary tobacco by a long shot. That's why it's so satisfying and so economical—a little bit goes a long way.
